The company numbered about 200, and included representatives of the various corps in garrison, in addition to Volunteers. DEATH OF A KAMBULA HERO.—On Saturday last, the 25th June, one of the most noble of our Indian heroes who fought under Sir Evelyn Wood, V.C., at the battle of Kambula, in Zulu land, died at Saint Illiers, during which he suffered greatly. He, retired from the Army on a pension in 1885, after having served in the Indian Mutiny, and in Zulu land, 1878-79. It will be remembered that he stood high in the estimation of the Prince of Wales, who honoured him with a portrait of his name at the banquet given on the 29th of March last, at the "Scarlets," in honour of the anniversary of the battle of Kambula. The funeral came as a great shock to his friends, he being a man apparently sound and hearty. The cause of death is attributed to heart disease and the fatigue of the heat. On Thursday, the deceased was interred in the Churchyard at Burgh, his native parish. The funeral was a military one, and the procession, which was very long, was preceded by the Band of Burgh after noon, consisted of a firing party of the Somerset Regt., and Kambula men—the Band of the Regiment, the coffin covered with a Union Jack and a number of beautiful wreaths, and borne on a gun carriage drawn by six horses, followed by a large number of mounted Officers of the Somerset Regiment. The procession was followed by a large number of people (the band playing Beethoven's Funeral March), and here they were met by a number of traps and conveyed to Saint Illiers. Sir Evelyn Wood was not being present at the funeral, but was presented by important gentlemen of Somerset.

ACCIDENT AT MIDDLEWICK RIFLE RANGE.—A serious accident occurred at Middlewick Rifle Range on Saturday morning about 8 o'clock. A party of the Durham Regt. were digging a trench near the butts, for the purpose of erecting a mantlet, and while the trench caved in burying Privates Bell and Stones. They were extricated as soon as possible and the latter removed to the Camp Hospital, it was found that Bell had sustained an injury to his ribs, and Stones a contusion of the left side.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A SERGT.-MAJOR OF THE 21ST HUSSARS.—A sad gloom has been cast over the Garrison by the fatal accident to Sergt.-Major Shoe-bridge who was killed during the Hussars' Manœuvres at Alresford, Hants, on the occasion of Sir Hy. Doughty Wylie's inspection of the 21st Hussars. Sergt.-Major Major, who was deservedly esteemed by all ranks, was an accomplished gymnast and fencing instructor, and was a favourite with the Officers of the Regt. to the fact of his being such an athlete. He was invited to Alresford by the Officers to assist in the performance on the trapeze, and without engaging in a difficult feat he missed his grasp and fell to the ground. Sergt. Loughton was with him at same time, and, in doing so, struck him on the head. The unfortunate man was picked up and carried to the Hospital, but never once stopped. Sergt. Loughton was also much shaken, and complained of pain in his side. Sergt.-Major Tichbourne has sent a cheque for £50 to the Sergt.-Major's widow.
